Silverspot Cinema summer film series offers variety

By BEN CRANDELL
Staff writer

Silverspot Cinema in Coconut Creek is offering an eclectic summer film series that aims to satisfy consumers of high art, lowbrow guilty pleasures and those with a foot in each camp.

Running through Aug. 22, the series has something for fans of "Jaws" and Jerry Garcia, "Top Gun" and "Turandot," Rodgers and Hammerstein and Lennon and McCartney, "Star Trek" and Elaine Stritch.

The tone is set early, with screenings of the beach-season thriller "Jaws" on Sunday and July 4 bracketing Hugh Jackman in the Rodgers and Hammerstein musical "Oklahoma" on Monday. Here, in chronological order, are 10 highlights from the series. Screenings are at 7 p.m. unless otherwise noted.

"Jaws": "Martin, it's all psychological. You yell, 'Barracuda,' everybody says, 'Huh, what?' You yell 'Shark,' we've got a panic on our hands on the Fourth of July." 2:30, Sunday and July 4

"Oklahoma!": Hugh Jackman has the Curly role in this 1999 adaptation of the Rodgers and Hammerstein musical. Monday

"Heaven Can Wait": Warren Beatty stars in this romantic fantasy with a bit of satirical bite that may feel very contemporary.

July 8, 11
"Top Gun": Maverick and Iceman celebrated the 30th anniversary of "Top Gun" a couple of years back, which makes the talk of a reunion perfectly reasonable. July 15, 18

Metropolitan Opera: Silverspot will host high-definition Met performances of Tchaikovsky's "Eugene Onegin" July 11 and Puccini's "Turandot" July 18.

"Yellow Submarine": Revisit the Beatles' psychedelic, animated Pepperland 50 years after the film's release. July 18

"Star Trek II: The Wrath of Khan": Jerry Seinfeld built a whole episode around this 1982 cultural touchstone. ("She's not really dead if we find a way to remember her," he told George Costanza's ill-fated, would-be in-laws.) July 29, Aug. 1

Grateful Dead Meetup at the Movies: The eighth annual Dead Meet-Up, from Fathom Events and Rhino Entertainment, offers the July 7, 1989, concert in Philadelphia that produced the live album "Crimson White & Indigo." Aug 1

"Elvis": The King's iconic TV special, better known as the "'68 Comeback Special," is screening in theaters this summer to mark its 50th anniversary. Aug. 16, 20

"Elaine Stritch at Liberty": The saucy Broadway star's Tony Award-winning, one-woman show, filmed in London. Aug. 22

Bruno Mars accepts the record of the year Grammy in January. Grammy ballots will have more nominees.

Grammys to add more nominees

The Grammy Awards are extending the number of nominees in its top categories from five to eight.

The Recording Academy told its members in a letter released Tuesday that the nominee increase "will better reflect the large number of entries in these categories and allow voters greater flexibility when selecting this year's best recordings."

Album of the year, song of the year, record of the year and best new artist are the categories that will be affected. The change comes months after the Grammys were criticized for the lack of female nominees at this year's awards show.

For years, the organization has been called out for the lack of diversity when it comes to winners in the top four categories, where awards tend to go to acts in the pop, rock or country music genres, instead of hip-hop or R&B stars.

Another change at the organization is with Neil Portnow, the president and CEO of The Recording Academy, who will step down next year. Portnow, who has led the academy since 2002, was criticized at this year's Grammys when he said women need to "step up" when asked about the lack of female winners backstage. Only two female performers won awards during the live telecast.

Voting for the 2019 Grammys takes place in the fall.

Bee Gee knighted: Bee Gee Barry Gibb, above, has received a knighthood at Buckingham Palace and says he hopes his late brothers Robin and Maurice are proud of him. Gibb is the last surviving member of the fraternal trio whose falsetto harmonies and disco beats powered 1970s hits.

Mill denied trial: A Philadelphia judge has denied Meek Mill's petition for a new trial in his decade-old drug and gun convictions despite support for the request by the district attorney's office. The rapper's attorneys cited credibility issues with a police officer who testified in his case. Judge Genece Brinkley said in an opinion Monday that Mill had not met his burden of proof in questioning the officer's credibility. Mill served five months before the state Supreme Court ordered his release.

Crowe as Ailes: Russell Crowe will portray Roger Ailes in a new Showtime series about the late Fox News Channel founder. The eight-episode limited series is based on the 2014 book "The Loudest Voice in the Room" by Gabriel Sherman. No airdate was announced for the series, which will focus on Ailes' journey from local television producer to one of the most influential forces in news. Ailes was CEO of Fox for 20 years before resigning after sexual harassment allegations against him surfaced in 2016. He died last year.

June 27 birthdays: Actor Tobey Maguire is 43. Reality star Khloe Kardashian is 34. Actor Ed Westwick is 31.
