

5 THINGS TO DO

1 LEND AN EAR Dierks Bentley "Burning Man Tour,"

Coral Sky Amphitheatre
Go wild to songs including "I Hold On," "5-1-5-0," "Long Trip Alone," "Home," "What Was I Thinkin'," and more. The show also features Jon Pardi and Tenille Townes. The show is 7 p.m. Friday, 601-7 Sansbury Way, West Palm Beach. Information: www.west-palmbeachamphitheatre.com

2 ENJOY Long Beach Dub Allstars, Culture Room

Rocking and bouncing across the country on their "2019 Summer Tour," this dub/ska/rock band will be bringing the good times along with special guests The Aggroites and Mike Pinto. The show is 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, 3045 N. Federal Highway, Fort Lauderdale. See website for ticket prices. Information: cultureroom.net

3 SEE, HEAR Tasty Pix & PR Pitches, NCCI Holdings, Inc.

Look and listen as food/restaurant photographer Libby Volgyes and Palm Beach Post pop-culture columnist Leslie Gray Streeter give the 411 on all things media. The event is 11:30 a.m. Tuesday, 901 Penninsula Corporate Circle, Boca Raton. Members $25, nonmembers $35. RSVP.

Dierks Bentley will play the Coral Sky Amphitheatre Friday night on his "Burning Man Tour." [SUZANNE CORDEIRO/AUSTIN-AMERICAN STATESMAN]

Photographer Libby Volgyes, along with Palm Beach Post writer Leslie Gray Streeter, will speak at Tasty Pix & PR Pitches on Tuesday. [CONTRIBUTED]

Information: www.goldcoast-prcouncil.com/category/luhceons/

4 GROOVY 50th Woodstock Anniversary with Peace of Woodstock,

Mizner Park Amphitheater
Jump back a half century to a time of groovy freedom and bliss in this 90-minute show paying tribute to the famous three-day festival. The performance is 7:30 p.m. Friday, 590 Plaza Real, Boca Raton. Free. Information: myboca.us/826/Mizner-Park-Amphitheater

Peace of Woodstock will perform Friday at the Mizner Park Amphitheater. [PHOTO COURTESY OF CLEMATIS BY NIGHT]

5 GET CREATIVE Beaded Boho Wreath Class,

Elizabeth Ave Station
Take a break from the stresses of the world and let your inner creativity flow. Create your own wreath with any color and floral theme you wish. No one can tell you what to do. All materials included.

The workshop is noon to 2 p.m. today, 1500-C Elizabeth Ave., West Palm Beach. $45. RSVP. Information: www.eventbrite.com/e/beaded-boho-wreath-class-tickets-62993741978 sandwiches, chicken strips and fried chicken baskets with choice of sides. It's complimentary, which makes it a slam dunk.

CRUISE

From Page F1

Besides eating, there also will be the drink-and-be-merry spots on the ship. And no, they are not complimentary!

The two-level RedFrog Tiki Bar lets cruisers sip and chill poolside in a tropical setting. Signature drinks will include Polynesian Punch, Jungle Bird and what will definitely challenge many, Red's Sum Runner Jumper. Say that three times!

New ship news: Norwegian Encore, under construction and set to arrive in Miami this fall, will debut a new specialty restaurant, Onda by Scarpetta.

The menu will showcase the rich and bold flavors the modern Italian restaurant is known for, including a selection of seafood and signature dishes, such as Yellowtail Crudo, Branzino, with pastas made in house daily.

The restaurant is an exclusive collaboration with LDV Hospitality, and it joins the Scarpetta portfolio's locations in New York; the Hamptons, N.Y.; Miami; Las Vegas; Philadelphia; Newport, R.I.; and London.

Other specialty dining venues aboard the ship will include favorites such as Cagney's Steakhouse, Food Republic, Le Bistro, Los Lobos, Ocean Blue, Q and Teppanyaki. New in the lineup will be American Diner, serving classic comfort food.

Soon after its arrival at PortMiami, Norwegian Encore will play host to the Boys & Girls Clubs of Miami-Dade's 13th annual Wild

About Kids Gala.

Taking place Nov. 16-17, the overnight event will offer guests a chance to sample many of the ship's amenities, including the two-level race-track, indoor virtual reality complex, open-air laser tag arena and the headliner show, "Kinky Boots."

The gala is co-chaired by Norwegian Cruise Line President and CEO Andy Stuart and his wife, Allison Stuart. Sponsorships and tickets range from $1,750 to $100,000. For more information, visit bgcmia.org/wild-about-kids-gala or contact Rhia Hunter at 305-446-9910 ext. 30 or rhunter@bgcmia.org

Disney update: Fans of Princess Tiana will find themselves immersed in the sights and sounds of New Orleans when Disney Wonder debuts its French Quarter Lounge. The family friendly space will feature live music, themed activities and character encounters.

Expect some magical touches (it's Disney, after all!) to whisk you away to the Big Easy, including wrought-iron balconies, classic brick walls, shutter-framed windows and a life-size trolley car.

More updates for Disney Wonder: Vibe, a club for teens ages 14-17, will be given a timeless feel with an open, bright redesign, a light color palette and industrial metal work. A new coffee bar and updated virtual reality technology add to the list of activities for teens to enjoy.

An adult space, Cove Café, will undergo a redesign to transform the look and feel of the café into a local coffee shop. Sip specialty coffee or tea throughout the day or enjoy wine, cocktails and light bites during the evening. Just steps away, Signals Bar is also undergoing a transformation with a similar look.

Carnival Cruise Line continues to reveal exciting news about Mardi Gras, which launches next year and moves to Port Canaveral in October 2020. [CONTRIBUTED BY CARNIVAL CRUISE LINE]

A rendering of Onda by Scarpetta, which will make its debut on Norwegian Encore, under construction and set to arrive in Miami this fall. The restaurant replaces La Cucina and will showcase the rich and bold flavors of Italy. [CONTRIBUTED BY NORWEGIAN CRUISE LINE]

Street Eats, an open-air eatery with three themed kiosks offering fried, steamed and skillet fare, will be introduced on Mardi Gras, Carnival Cruise Line's new ship that will launch next year. [CONTRIBUTED BY CARNIVAL CRUISE LINE]

The enhancements debut on the Disney Wonder's four-night sailing from Vancouver to San Diego on Sept. 30.

Free cruises: Norwegian Cruise Line is celebrating summer by giving away one cruise (three to five days) per week. Every Friday the cruise line will post a challenge asking people to respond with a photo using #NorwegiansSummerFridays and tweeting @CruiseNorwegian, posting to the @norwegiancruiseline Facebook wall or sharing on Instagram.

Winners will have their choice of a three, four or five-day cruise to the Bahamas, Bermuda, Caribbean or other select destination.

Dig out those vacation photos now! The contest ends Sept. 23. Winners must take their cruise by Dec. 31, 2020.